

ARC Delegate Registration information:

Member & Associate Member Institutions

Employees of member and associate member institutions are entitled to attend ARC Annual Conference & Exhibition sessions and there are no restrictions on their participation in the event. There is no limit on the number of delegates that Member & Associate Member Institutions can send to conference, which is at the discretion of the institution's primary contact.

Non-Members

ARC encourages conference participation and welcomes attendance requests from individuals who are not employees of Member and Associate Member Institutions. During the registration process, non-members will be asked to identify themselves and provide in writing their rationale for attendance which will be referred to the ARC Executive Committee to be reviewed on a case-by-case-basis.
